When was the Ashcombe Mansion built?

The 19-century Cumberland County Mansion was built in 1891 as a summer residence for the wife of Henry G. Moser, a local legislator, judge and railroad executive.

Who owns the Ashcombe Mansion now?

The property was purchased in 2017 by Ashcombe Mansion Property, LLC after it had set vacant for nearly 8 years. The President of Ashcombe Mansion Property, LLC is Central Pennsylvania native and attorney Deborah Welsh. Before sitting vacant, the former owners operated it as a bed-and-breakfast venue and hosted weddings.

What is Ms. Welsh's vision for The Willows at Ashcombe Mansion?

She is hoping to restore the Mansion to its former glory to offer upscale clientele a historic, unique and fully contained destination resort and special event venue. The Willows at Ashcombe Mansion will be ideal for weddings, receptions, banquets, reunions, birthday parties, fundraising events, business meetings, conferences, private parties and other special occasions. The property will offer patrons an opportunity to "own an estate for the weekend."

What is the meaning behind the Mansion's name?

The estate was named Ashcombe Mansion for the numerous ash trees on the property and means "grove of ashes." Unfortunately, this region has been afflicted with the blight which impacted many trees on the property. Plans include planting several romantic willow trees—hence the new name "The Willows at Ashcombe Mansion." The ash trees that had to be removed will be used as beams and to construct outdoor furniture.

Will the cottages be available to the general public?

No. The cottages are only available to guests who are attending a special event and will benefit from overnight accommodations. There will be a 10-cottage minimum rental restriction.
